MOHI

VOLUME 6

MOUNT OLIVE HIGH SCHOOL
MOUNT OLIVE, N. C.

Presented By SENIOR CLASS

LOOKING FORWARD

This journalistic pyramid of the yearbook staff of the 1958 Edition of the MOHI pictures a significant scene of "seeking the way" in their yearbook assignment. A victorious climax is only a few frivolous seconds away.

Looking downward or upward, inward or outward, their one common goal is to the future. Meditatively they are seeking the way for other outstanding achievements in the many unseen areas of endeavors ahead of them.

In the center at the bottom is Joyce, their chief,
Consoled by Anne in this moment of grief.
And below is Ann B. with a more visionary gaze.
To the right is Karen in solemn meditation,
Surrounded by book-throwers in momentary
consternation.
Yes, mixed emotions are indeed on display,
In this galaxy of students in pyramid array.
But in their struggle to prepare their yearbook
This determined staff of students will glorify the "Forward Look."

DEDICATION

Many choice olives have grown in the "Garden of Mount Olive" - - - ambition, hope, patience, fidelity, loyalty, love, devotion. But as we passed through we picked but one, for all these qualities we found in one choice olive

IN APPRECIATION

As schools reflect society and society reflects the schools, so this expression of "In Appreciation" reflects our deep and sincere appreciation to the merchants and businessmen of Mount Olive for their interest and help not only in the 1958 Edition of the MOHI but for all past and current projects of enriching the opportunities of their current and future citizens.

Accordingly, the 1958 edition of the MOHI, the Mount Olive High School yearbook, proudly salutes and pays tribute to these merchants and business establishments which constitute the setting of the introduction of each major section of the 1958 MOHI.

This tribute also concerns the advertisements given by our merchants which are so essential to the progress and success of the school yearbook.

FAREWELL

To the sacred halls of M. O. H. S.,
That we've come to love so dear
We say these words of sadness
Since our parting day is near.

We will always cherish our mem'ries
Of the years we've spent with thee;
And though we trod your halls no longer
In our hearts you'll live eternally.

And as we leave, your halls are hushed;
No footsteps do you hear
Echo down the halls and disappear.
And as we sadly leave,
Our hearts will ever grieve
To know that we no longer will be here.

To the sacred halls of M. O. H. S.
Where we lived and learned so well,
With hearts of love and sorrow
Every voice bids thee, Farewell.

CLASS HISTORY

When the school term of 1954 and 1955 began, eighty-nine freshmen, filled with excitement and enthusiasm, became a part of that wonderful institution, High School. Our first look at our responsibilities frightened us; but we learned to accept them and soon became adapted to our duties and surroundings.

One of our earliest duties was to elect our class officials. Those leaders were Bill Burnette, President; Karen Sue Best, Vice President; and Joyce Goodson, Secretary and Treasurer.

Joyce Garner and Cecilia Crow, in receiving recognition for their scholarship, were our class marshals.

Being well accustomed to High School now, we began our Sophomore year with an enrollment of fifty-nine and elected for our class officers: Bill Burnette, President; Jewell Griffin, Vice President; Joyce Goodson, Secretary; and Kathryn Brown, Treasurer.

This year we began projects to promote our class funds. Our project was a talent show which added thirty dollars to our funds. We chose Karen Sue Best to compete with other contestants in our school for the Miss American Legion Contest.

Our marshals for this year were Joyce Garner, Karen Best, Rudy Oates, and Bill Burnette.

From our class were chosen six waiters and waitresses for the Junior-Senior. The waiters were Bill Tillman, Bert May, Billy Patterson, Rudy Oates, Jimmy Loftin, and Bill Burnette. The waitresses were Betty Lou Cooke, Anne Bracey, Carole Brock, Karen Sue Best, Anne Corrine Wilson, and Molly Dotson.

Our Junior year began, bringing as much excitement and many new responsibilities. Our money-making problems increased with thoughts of the Junior-Senior Prom, which we had to give this year. Our projects for raising money included a barbecue supper, the annual Junior Play, and a Valentine dance, all of which proved to be very successful and fun for all of us. On April 26, we gave our Junior-Senior, with "Fantasy Land" as our theme, which was very beautiful, and left us happy and proud.

Betty Price was selected this year to compete with the other contestants of high school for the Miss American Legion Contest.

Joyce Garner, Karen Best, Jean Ellis, and Molly Dotson were marshals from our class.

We, now, had an enrollment of fifty-one students, who had selected as their leaders Anne Bracey, President; Rudy Oates, Vice President; Molly Dotson, Secretary; and Karen Best, Treasurer.

Finally, we had almost reached the top of our high school ladder, for we were now SENIORS. Our still persistent forty-nine class members chose Rudy Oates, President; Anne Bracey, Vice President; Joyce Goodson, Secretary; and Karen Best, Treasurer; to lead us during this busy year. We had many things to look forward to, our class rings, the publication of the "MOHI," the annual visit to Washington, the Junior-Senior, and most important of all our caps and gowns. On November 22, we successfully presented our Senior Play, "Cinderella Rose."

Carole Brock represented Mt. Olive in the Miss American Legion Contest and was second runner-up. Betty Price was Mt. Olive's representative in the "Miss Holiday Queen Contest."

During our four years of High School, we had much work to do and also, we enjoyed much fun. This May as we descend those familiar steps for the final time many wonderful and happy memories will go with us.

PROPHECY

Entry in the log of the space ship "Asternoid IV" for July 26, 2016 A. D.

. . . Upon returning from Neptune, I, Captain Bill Patterson of the Inter-solar Space Patrol, was glancing into my navigator's insterstellar video screen when I saw a broadcast of what had been happening on earth way back in 1968.

I saw that many of my classmates of M. O. H. S. days were in athletics: Norman Outlaw the manager of that terrific middleweight. Billy Merritt has his boy almost in shape for the championship bout with Bernice Rivenbark.

Bert May, now assistant coach at N. C. State, is doing a fine job and is generally regarded as one of the finest athletic supporters to come out of the South in years.

Earl Rose is still playing shortstop for the Yanks and is now having one of his best seasons as he is batting .072.

Bill Tillman was also heading for a promising career in sports but unfortunately he went blind and had to become a referee.

Anne Bracey who became a famous sports columnist for her work in basketball, has moved to Montreal, Canada, and is fast becoming an expert on hockey.

Although I could see that we had developed good athletes in our class, we also were very diversified in our interests, for instance: Jean Ellis has been sent to Russia as a secret weapon and has been most effective; to date she has run fourteen down with her automobile and talked nine others to death.

Kermit Goodson divides his time about evenly between his string of fishing boats and being the "Fizzisist" at Albert's.

Bill Burnette made his million selling Amoco and has retired to his Texas ranch where he breeds sheep.

Willie Draughon and Harry Cashwell make their living by doing odd jobs . . . like hauling 100 pound sacks of sugar through the woods.

Jimmy Loftin is completing his training to be a missionary to Rumania.

Lynwood Kennedy always good in bookkeeping, is now known as one of the slickest bookies at the tracks.

Rupert Dail's Dog Food Industry has grown by leaps and bounds and he is considering a merger that will give him control of General Mills.

Johnnie Fay Broadhurst is a novelist and is traveling in Ethopia doing research for her book "The Life and Ancestry of Joyce Garner."

Kathryn Brown is a girl nobody has been able to find. We hear that she is following a Music Major she married.

Betty Lou Cooke has been abroad for the last three years and is having herself a ball.

Joan Shaw put her chemistry to good use and is now an assistant witch doctor in Brazil.

Betty Price has realized her ambition and is now a model for the ACE Feed Sack Co.

Faye Hatch has joined her sisters in the law firm of Hatch, Hatch, Hatch and Hatch.

Sylvia Wiggins is an announcer at WPTF where she MCs the "Harmony Trio" starring Kay Herring on the Organ, Emma Powell at the Base Horn, and Jewell Griffin at the Juice Harp.

Evelyn Thigpen has just completed her book "How to Get Ahead with a Head that's Red."

Joyce Goodson, advertising agent for the Pickle Company, has a problem since Ola Best and Karen Best fell into a pickle vat. She doesn't know whether to say "Our Pickles are Best" or "Best are our Pickles."

Audrey Alphin has her accordion and monkey, and as soon as she can find a tin cup, she plans to go into business for herself.

Carol Ann Howell has become an obstetric because she thinks babies are cute.

Anne Wilson is a demonstration driver for Chevrolet.

Jean Sawyer has finally settled down and now has seven in the family - - four children and three husbands.

Sybil Malpass is the "taste tester" at Wilmer Thornton's Candy Kitchen but she may quit - the candy is making her lose her appetite.

LaQuita Deaton is a nurse for Trans-World Airlines and is kept very busy dispensing pills since Janet Stanley is the Cook.

Emmett Outlaw practices his "farmicy" on his plantation and attributes his success to the fact he always buys his mules from Elizabeth Wilson's stockyard.

Peggy Wells, Audrey Jones, and Margaret Powell have joined the Waves and under their supervision, the submarine fleet has been classed as the most powerful in the world.

Carole Brock, now a famous pianist, is head of music for the Metropolitan Opera.

Rudy Oates, a promising young physicist has discovered a new method for getting blood out of a turnip.

Rose Lee Sullivan had a narrow escape during the Dixie Classics. She had worn a brown dress and was mistaken for a basketball.

Sebron Sasser, the editor of the "News and Observer" sent his star reporter, Carol Jean Gardner a large bonus for her expose of labor racketress Jeanette Summerlin.

After this, a commercial appeared on the video screen and I returned to my post. We set our course toward Earth and hope to arrive at .0400 tomorrow.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the 1958 Senior Class of Mount Olive High School, being of sound mind and realizing that our departure from this school is near at hand, do hereby declare and make this our last will and testament, on this, the thirtieth day of January.

Article I

To our school we leave our love and gratitude forever.

Article II

To our faculty we leave our deep, sincere appreciation for the many things that you have done for us and for your guidance during the past four years.

Article III

To our underclassmen we leave these talents and properties:

Joyce Goodson who has only a brain to leave asks her forgiveness if this doesn't please.

Kay Herring leaves her ability to cook, to any man who wants to be hooked.

Emma Powell leaves her "loud speaker," to the Center Theater for "double-length, double-features."

Jimmy Loftin leaves his funny jokes, to the Junior Class who needs them "the most."

Jewell Griffin leaves her "charm," to Mr. Hatch and the crows on his farm.

Betty Price leaves her ability to "catch a man" to Mig O'Berry for her diligent "Last Stand."

Carol Ann Howell leaves her love for "service men," to herself so she may try, try, try again.

Bernice Rivenbark leaves his neatness to Billy Bracey to add to his "sweetness."

Karen Sue Best leaves her curly hair to Hedy Parker who has none to spare.

Norman Outlaw leaves his quiet ways, for Bert, Ann, Van (I mean the Mays).

Rupert Dail our "student professor" leaves his ingenious mind, to a person of his nature, which I doubt you will find.

LaQuita Deaton leaves her curly hair along with her height, to help reconstruct Barbara Rainer's mite.

Joyce Garner leaves her headaches and perspiration, to the next year's annual staff to add to their flustration.

Rudy Oates leaves his fame as a "lover" to be kept in a safe place and passed on to his brother.

Johnnie Faye Broadhurst "a cute little kid" leaves her "Flying Ford" to the highest bid.

Billy Patterson leaves his silly ideas and crazy actions, to any tenth grader still struggling through fractions.

Emmett Outlaw, an odd sort of boy leaves his "way around town" for someone else's joy.

Peggy Wells leaves her "luck so fine," to Mamie Lou Williams (the poor dear behind).

Janet Stanley leaves her trim little figure to anyone who is two or three times bigger.

Billy Merritt leaves his Plymouth "divine" to his little brother Jimmy who is just behind.

A cute little smile is left by Ola Best to the ninth, tenth, and eleventh grades' happiness.

Long legs is all I (Audrey Jones) have to leave but someday, somehow, you may be in need.

Carole Brock leaves her charm "I'm sure," to YOU if you think you can endure.

Kathryn Brown leaves her quiet voice, to "Cleo" the talking dog on the "People's Choice."

Faye Hatch leaves her slogan "I hate school," to anyone who wants to challenge it with "The Golden Rule."

Joan Shaw leaves her "Little Nash" to the Department of Sanitation to clean up trash.

Anne Bracey leaves her fame as a "basketball star," to her sisters. (She hopes they will be up to par).

Evelyn Thigpen leaves her fair red hair, to the newest thing in a zoo - a red grizzly bear.

Neatness and clothes are left by Betty Lou Cooke, (She's hoping it will help get her a man to hook).

Jeanette Summerlin leaves her "short curley bop" to a manufacturing company that produces a new kind of mop.

Silvia Wiggins leaves her love for "bop" to all "Jazz Bands" so they'll never stop.

Audrey Alphin leaves her appetite and silly ways, for "Black" to think about in future days.

Sebron Sasser leaves his short crew cut to "Alphonso," a long tailed, shaggy eared nut.

Carole Jean Gardner leaves her pretty eyes to be used in a telescope that's just been devised.

Margaret Powell leaves her sweet little grin, to all bears so they will hibernate in the back of their dens.
Mathematics is left by (insane) Earl Rose, he writes algebra problems all over his clothes.
Anne Corrine Wilson leaves all her hard work to some smart somebody who doesn't shirk.
Bert May leaves his big, strong shoulders to a construction company to use for boulders.
Jean Ellis leaves her "Speaker of the House" manner, to the very latest book written by Tanner.
Harry Lee Cashwell leaves his school bus to be sent to Alcatraz "in care of us."
Bill Tillman leaves his "slow but sure way" to the rabbit (maybe HE'LL slow down someday).
A "special menu" is what Kermit Goodson leaves behind, a "conglomerated concoction" to drive you out of your mind.
Linwood Kennedy leaves his "flapping tongue" behind; a longer, limberer tongue you'll never find.
Willie Draughon lives his pet name "Sandy" for a never sweeter name like "Candy."
Sybil Malpass leaves her pleasing way, to make a "Big Hit" like Johnny Ray.
Betty Millard leaves her extra height behind to shorten boy friends she might be able to find.
Wilmer Thornton leaves her love for some "mister" and when her love grows dim, she has a sister.
Rosa Lee Sullivan leaves her extra pounds till she gets out of school to "throw her weight around."
Elizabeth Wilson leaves her love for art. (Wonder if that will win a man's heart?).
Bill Burnette leaves his basketball fame to Leslie Ipock (wonder if he can do the same?).

ACTIVITIES

1957 JUNIOR-SENIOR

"FANTASY LAND"

One of the high-lights of every high school Junior and Senior is the Junior-Senior Prom. The Prom is a climax to every school year when spring and young love are in full bloom. Such was the Prom of '57.

The Juniors chose for their theme "Fantasy Land" and with much work and aid from their advisor, Miss Jeanne Olive, made their prom a success.

At the banquet, toasts and speeches were exchanged by the Juniors, Seniors, and their faculty members. From the sophomore class were the waiters: Allen Sutton, Billy Daughtry, Van May, Harold Cook, Billy Bracey, P. K. Sutton; and the waitresses: Linda Skipper, Delores Butler, Norma Carole Summerlin, Snow Miller, Blanche Casey, and Gail King.

The first dance of the Prom was given to the honored Seniors, and then everyone and his partner enjoyed the hours of dancing that followed. The music was presented by the Carolinians.

The Senior Class wishes to thank all who have helped in the publication of the 1958 MOHI.

Especially we wish to express our thanks to the faculty, Charles Kraft, the students, and all those who have contributed so generously to the 1958 MOHI!

The Annual Staff

THE END

And you say that you don't normally see these... er... students... around the school? Ridiculous! They're merely normal, happy, and carefree young journalists rejoicing at the completion of another yearbook... your 1958 MOHI. You have a complaint to make? Due to circumstances beyond control, please address all complaints to Ye Olde Nut House, Salem 3, Oregon. Deceased members may be found under all tombstones with epitaphs saying, "WE HATE YEARBOOKS!"
